OBSERVATIONS

(Old Kodger's Column)

Presume it is proper that is should be said here, that so long as this space is to be filled by ye old one, that what is said here is only my own opinion and does not necessarily voice the opinion or policy of the new owners of the Marshall Courier; that some "characters used herein are fictitious and any resemblance to persons living or dead is purely coincidental—except of course, G. O. Pace, of whipporwill fame, plus a few others that may be "ribbed" for the fun of it.

For The Past Few Days

I have had a bad case of "drivitis." In case you don't know what that is, it is a desire to just drive around our section of the state and see our domain.
Just had to try out the new Cumberland river bridge during the weekend and before I knew it was sitting in front of the "big house" (the pin) at Eddyville staring at the massive stone walls of the prison, then standing on the high bluff nearby watching the water of Cumberland river flow over the locks and dam.

Believe It Or Not

We are now neighbors to the good people of Kuttawa, Grand Rivers, and Eddyville. You'd be surprised just how quickly these towns are now reached by crossing the Dam bridge and the new Cumberland River bridge. We are 15 miles nearer by highway to these towns and to Princeton and others that are East of us. That big curve around the road to Cadiz and thence East has been eliminated. The road is good all the way.
From Kentucky Dam to Kuttawa the highway is super duper. If you have not already made this route, put it on your itinerary before summer is gone.

Monday My Drivitis Was still bothering and the only Doctor nearby was the highway to and beyond Calvert City. Went sightseeing to the "Ruhr Valley" area at Calvert City and saw that stretch of factories that reaches for miles along the banks of the Tennessee river. Things are happening over there—the whole area is cut up with railroads built all over the place, and they're still building. The I. C. had two giant engines and a string of two of cars building tracks to the B. F. Goodrich site. Steel work for buildings that appeared to be five or six stories in height attracted my attention. Everywhere the earth was being moved—dirt, gravel, cement, buildings and more buildings.

All Of This Was Too much for me to grasp, so back to Calvert City where I supervised the work going on the Miller-Johnson building in Calvert City. It was down to my size and much easier understood. For an hour or two I helped Icy McGregor put in window casings and helped Glen Ely put in the wiring, and some other man lay a few bricks. This is a nice building about 30 feet wide and 80 feet long. Bob McWaters is the contractor and it seems he has done a quick bang-up job for the plumbers.

Another Hour Working

our jaws overtime with Dick Ford, getting a lot of shoe shop philosophy together with the help of Malcolm Wright, Lex Hulen and others, on what Calvert City would be within a few years., our eight hours were up and our loafers union card told us it was time to head the jalopy South for the time being. Could go right back over there today and tomorrow and just sit and watch the progress that is under way in our county, but it is hard to begin to vision what will be made in and around Calvert within the next few months. Our jalopy is already headed that way again—and soon.

SOIL CONSERVATION NOTES

By Herbert Anderson

Noah Peck, northwest of Scalé, has a drainage problem on Chestnut Creek which cannot be solved in a practical and economical way.

There are two reasons for this situation.
First, there is no outlet. And second, the watershed is not stabl-lized. This last reason is the most important.
Three years ago, Peck hired a bulldozer to dig a new channel. Today it is filled with gravel.

"Flood water covers this bottom land this deep," said Peck, as he held his hand waist high. "I don't have much hopes of harvesting a crop here this year."

Robert Howard, southwest of Benton, made a complete soil and water conservation farm plan last month. Help in doing this was made available by the Marshall County Soil Conservation District.

George Little, south of Palma, has planted a field to corn in which there are two main natural draws. These are not in sod yet, but he did not plow and plant them.

A strip fifty to sixty feet wide was left in each one. In August he plans to prepare a seedbed and sow them in fescue and Ladino clover. He will then have permanent sod waterways.

G. W. Lofton, near Possum Trot, is also leaving a sixty foot waterway thru a field he is planting to corn. In August, he is going to shape the waterway, prepare a seedbed and sow grasses and legumes.

Jess Beard, at the junction of U. S.
68 with the Access Road, is continuing his land reclamation work this year. The land is being sown to permanent grass as it is reclaimed.

Last year he had the bulldozer push trees and bushes into gullies in natural draws. This year he is burning these and using the bulldozer to shape waterways so they can be sown in grass.

The Soil Conservation Service will help any farmer with problems relating to sod waterways.

SOMEBODY IS RESPONSIBLE

When one stops and looks at the figures in road contracts let recently by the highway commission, we have someone to thank. Out of $1,340,000 worth of contracts Marshall county's share amounted to $222,969, more than any other county in the state by $70,000.

It appears that Marshall county is being ably represented in the State legislature.

AN OLD PROVERB - GOOD TODAY

If there is righteousness in the heart There will be beauty in the character;
If there is beauty in the character There will be harmony in the home;
If there is harmony in the home There will be Order in the nation;
If there is order in the nation
There will be peace in the world.
